Auditorium Ettore Rossi

13.03.2025, 08:30 Uhr - 14.03.2025, 17:15 Uhr

Notfallmedizin | InselSpital

Welcome to our two-day Acute Care Surgery meeting March 13-14, 2025 at InselSpital, Bern University Hospital, Bern, Switzerland! Over the course of this event, we'll dive into the diverse and unpredictable challenges that define our field. Check out the scientific program of DAY 1 and DAY 2!

Acute Care Surgery demands quick, adaptable decision-making, with each patient bringing unique complexities and unexpected needs. From traumatic injuries to sudden surgical emergencies, our work is defined by variability, requiring a dynamic, interdisciplinary approach. In the sessions ahead, we'll explore new strategies, share insights, and discuss the latest advancements to enhance our ability to respond to this ever-changing patient landscape. Thank you for joining us—let's embrace the diversity of our practice together!
